Mandatory Training: Zoom Catch-up Sessions

Program

Following the 2022 periodic elections, our team of diverse and experienced trainers have been delivering optimal standards of education to each newly elected member council body.

Our training has equipped Members with the necessary knowledge for their 4-year term of office.

However, we are aware councils may still have one (or several) Members who may have been unavailable to attend an 'in person' training session arranged by their council in the first instance.

To assist your Members meet their Mandatory Training requirements, Kelledy Jones Lawyers is offering Zoom 'catch up' sessions for each of the four (4) substantive Modules, on the days and times below, for a fixed fee of $575 +GST per Module, per council, regardless of how many participants register.

On completion of each Module, participants will receive certification they have met all aspects of the Mandatory Training requirements under the LGA Training Standards.

If, of course, these dates and times are not suitable for your Members, do not hesitate to contact us for a quotation to arrange an alternative session. This can be accommodated in our Boardroom, via Zoom, or at the council.

Please contact Jane Horlin-Smith on 8113 7100 to make your booking, or email us at info@kelledyjones.com.au.

We are dedicated to the provision of specialist legal services to local government.

We are recognised as being at the forefront of local government legal practice. Our dedication to the local government sector speaks for itself. Our practitioners are focussed on local government clients' interests and do not compete with the interests of private-sector clients.

We have a sophisticated understanding of the complex legal requirements and risk frameworks that apply to councils. We also understand the community expectations, financial and political considerations, oversight and review processes, that impact councils and their operations.
